Customer Reviews

My 1 yr old loves this book. She loves the pictures but her favorite parts of the book are the holes. She loves to stick her fingers in there and also giggles when I put my fingers in them. She gets great joy out of just playing with this book, not necessarily reading it. I would definitely recommend.

This book is great. My son (who is a one year old) loves it and we read it over and over and over. We have a few of the other books in this series and he loves them to. I highly recommend this one!

Well done. You'll enjoy singing, counting and adlibing about the doctor's reaction to momma calling on the doctor. Fun.

I made a quilt for my new precious granddaughter and quilted the words, "One little monkey jumping on the bed, twice around the border so just HAD to have the book, one of my childhood favorites and my children's, to go with the quilt! She will love it when she starts enjoying stories!!

It doesn't say anywhere that I can see in the description that this is a big book suited for primary grade teachers yet not easy to hold baby on your lap and read. I had no idea when I put it on my wish list. What a surprise! It's a great story with illustrations that provide many teachable opportunities: number recognition, counting cause and effect, telling time, feelings, and more.

I purchased this for my 3 year old grandson. He absolutely love it! I did not even get half way through the book and he was reading it to me! I always look for board books for him since he is so hard on paper ones they do not make it through one day. Great story and wonderful illustration!

Just gave this to my almost 2 year old cousin and he liked the holes in the book. His mother and big sister love this story and started reading it to him right away. He was interested although very distracted by the party so I think he will like the book.

This is a great book for very young children all the way to toddlers. I bought it for my grandson when he was about 6 to 9 months old. He is now 3 year old and has a 1 year old baby brother. They both love it.
